ACCESS TO THE COURTHOUSE

The Robert F. Peckham Federal Building opens to the public at 7:30 a.m. daily. All parties entering the Federal Building must show a government-issued picture ID and undergo security screening. Official identification issued by any U.S. state or by the United States government is acceptable. The only acceptable international identification is a government-issued passport with a current U.S. visa.

Proper decorum is expected of all visitors to the Federal Building.

ACCESS TO TRIAL AND ENTRY/EXIT FROM THE COURTROOM

The trial in this matter is a public proceeding; members of the public and journalists are welcome to attend. There will be a video/audio feed to an overflow courtroom, so access to the proceedings is not limited to the primary courtroom and we anticipate that seating will be adequate.

Entry, re-entry and seating in the courtroom will be managed by the U.S. Marshals Service and Clerk's Office staff. Observers may exit the courtroom at any time.

PROHIBITION ON PHOTOGRAPHY, RECORDING AND BROADCASTING

Taking photographs and audio and/or video recording and/or broadcasting of proceedings in federal court by any means violates a nationwide policy promulgated by the Judicial Conference of the United States, subject to limited exceptions not applicable in this case. A request that this case be included in the "cameras in the courtroom" pilot project was denied because all parties did not consent.

ELECTRONIC DEVICES

General Order No. 58 regulates possession and use of electronic devices in the courthouse. "GO 58" can be found on the court's website: cand.uscourts.gov/generalorders. Court security personnel will screen all electronic devices and cameras before allowing them into the courthouse and may bar any item that appears to pose a threat to security or safety. Subject to this screening, electronic devices may be brought into the courthouse and used in a non-disruptive and non-distracting manner.

Judge Koh has established the following policies for members of the media in Apple v. Samsung; Samsung v. Apple:

1. Quiet use of laptops is permitted in Courtroom 1 and the overflow courtroom;
2. Use of laptops, smartphones or similar personal devices for electronic transmission of email, including filing of reporter's stories, is permitted in Courtroom 1 and the overflow courtroom. Wireless internet access is available in the courtrooms.

Inside the courtroom, cell phones, pagers and other devices may not be used except for text functions and must be turned off or set to vibrate mode. Cell phones may be used for voice communication in the hallways outside the courtrooms and other public areas.

Cameras may not be used in the Federal Building. Photography and interviews are permitted outside the building only. Photography equipment may be brought into the attorney lounge with proper press identification.

Violation of these rules may result in the immediate loss of press credentials or other action.
