UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

IN RE: VOLKSWAGEN “CLEAN DIESEL” MARKETING, SALES PRACTICES, AND PRODUCTS LIABILITY LITIGATION

MDL No. 2672 CRB (JSC)

ORDER GRANTING PRELIMINARY
APPROVAL OF THE BOSCH CLASS ACTION SETTLEMENT

This Order Relates To:
ALL CONSUMER ACTIONS
ALL RESELLER DEALERSHIP ACTIONS

In the fall of 2015 the public learned of Volkswagen’s deliberate use of a defeat device— software designed to cheat emissions tests and deceive federal and state regulators—in nearly 600,000 Volkswagen-, Porsche-, and Audi-branded turbocharged direct injection (“TDI”) diesel engine vehicles sold in the United States. Litigation quickly ensued, and those actions were consolidated and assigned to this Court as a multidistrict litigation (“MDL”). After months of intensive negotiations and with the assistance of a court-appointed settlement master, Plaintiffs and Defendants Robert Bosch GmbH and Robert Bosch, LLC (collectively, “Bosch”) reached a settlement that resolves consumer claims concerning certain 2.0- and 3.0-liter diesel TDI vehicles. (See Dkt. No. 2918.)

The Settlement Class Representatives now move the Court to (1) preliminarily approve the proposed Bosch Class Action Settlement Agreement and Release (“Settlement”), (2) conditionally certify a Settlement Class, (3) approve the proposed settlement notice plan, and (4) schedule a fairness hearing. Having reviewed the proposed settlement and with the benefit of oral argument on February 14, 2017, the Court GRANTS the motion for preliminary approval. The Settlement is sufficiently fair, adequate, and reasonable to the 2.0- and 3.0-liter diesel engine vehicle consumers to move forward with class notice.

BACKGROUNDI. Factual Allegations

Volkswagen sold Volkswagen-, Audi-, and Porsche-branded TDI “clean diesel” vehicles, which it marketed as being environmentally friendly, fuel efficient, and high performing. Unbeknownst to consumers and regulatory authorities, Volkswagen installed in these cars a software defeat device that allowed the vehicles to evade United States Environmental Protection Agency (“EPA”) and California Air Resources Board (“CARB”) emissions test procedures. Specifically, the defeat device senses whether the vehicle is undergoing testing and produces regulation-compliant results, but operates a less effective emissions control system when the vehicle is driven under normal circumstances. Only by installing the defeat device on its vehicles was Volkswagen able to obtain Certificates of Conformity from EPA and Executive Orders from CARB for its 2.0- and 3.0-liter diesel engine vehicles; in fact, these vehicles release nitrogen oxides at a factor of up to 40 times over the permitted limit. Over six years, Volkswagen sold American consumers nearly 600,000 diesel vehicles equipped with a defeat device.

As alleged, Bosch worked closely with Volkswagen to develop and supply the software defeat device for use in Volkswagen’s vehicles. Despite having knowledge of Volkswagen’s illicit use of the defeat device, Bosch continued to work with Volkswagen and even concealed the defeat device in communications with U.S. regulators when concerns were raised about the emission control system in certain Volkswagen vehicles. While Volkswagen has publicly admitted wrongdoing, Bosch continues to deny wrongdoing. (See Dkt. No. 2838 at 8.)

II. Procedural History

In January 2016, the Court appointed Elizabeth J. Cabraser of Lieff, Cabraser, Heimann & Bernstein, LLP as Lead Plaintiffs’ Counsel and Chair of the Plaintiffs’ Steering Committee (“PSC”), to which the Court also named 21 attorneys. (Dkt. No. 1084.) On September 2, 2016, the PSC filed its Amended Consolidated Consumer Class Action Complaint against 13 named defendants: Volkswagen Group of America; Volkswagen AG; Audi AG; Audi of America, LLC; Porsche AG; Porsche Cars North America, Inc.; Martin Winterkorn; Matthias Müller; Michael Horn; Rupert Stadler; Robert Bosch GmbH; Robert Bosch, LLC; and Volkmar Denner. (Dkt. No.

1 1804.) As against Bosch, the complaint asserts claims under the Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt 2 Organizations Act (“RICO”), 18 U.S.C. § 1962(c)-(d), state fraud and unjust enrichment laws, and 3 all fifty States’ consumer protection laws. The PSC also filed a Second Amended Consolidated 4 Reseller Dealership Class Action Complaint against the same 13 defendants; the complaint asserts 5 against Bosch claims for RICO, fraud, and unjust enrichment. (Dkt. No. 1805.)

6 Also in January 2016, the Court appointed former Director of the Federal Bureau of 7 Investigation Robert S. Mueller III as Settlement Master to oversee settlement negotiations 8 between the parties. (Dkt. No. 973.) Since that time, in parallel to negotiations for the 2.0-liter 9 and 3.0-liter Volkswagen settlements, the parties have engaged in both litigation and settlement 10 discussions over Bosch’s involvement in the Volkswagen emissions scandal. The parties finally 11 reached a proposed Settlement, and Plaintiffs now seek the Court’s preliminary approval of the 12 Settlement. (Dkt. No. 2838.)

13 SETTLEMENT TERMS

14 This Order addresses the proposed Bosch Class Action Settlement Agreement and Release.
 15 The key provisions of the Settlement are as follows.

16 I. The Settlement Amount

17 The Settlement requires Bosch to create a non-reversionary settlement fund, called the 18 Bosch Settlement Fund, in the amount of $327,500,000 to compensate Class Members. (Dkt. No.
 19 2918 ¶¶ 4.1, 10.1.)

20 II. The Settlement Class

21 The proposed Settlement Class consists of all persons and entities who were eligible for 22 membership in the combination of classes defined in the 2.0-liter and 3.0-liter class action 23 settlement agreements, including anyone who opted out or opts out of those agreements. (Id.
 24 ¶ 2.17.) The following are excluded from the Settlement Class: (a) Bosch’s officers, directors, and 25 employees; and Bosch’s affiliates and affiliates’ officers, directors, and employees; (b) 26 Volkswagen; Volkswagen’s officers, directors, and employees; and Volkswagen’s affiliates and 27 affiliates’ officers, directors, and employees; (c) any Volkswagen franchise dealer; (d) judicial 28 officers and their immediate family members and associated court staff assigned to this case; and

1 (e) any person or entity that timely and properly opted out of the Bosch Settlement. (Id.)

2 Eligible Vehicles under the Settlement are the same eligible vehicles identified in the 2.0-3 liter and 3.0-liter settlement agreements. (Id. ¶ 2.34.) Any Volkswagen, Audi, or Porsche 4 vehicles that were never sold in the United States or its territories are excluded from the Eligible
5 Vehicles. (Id.)

6 III. Claims Process

7 The Settlement Benefit Period, or the time period during which Class Members may obtain 8 benefits under the Settlement, ends on April 30, 2020. (Id. ¶ 2.50.)

9 A. Class Members Who are not Required to Make a Claim

10 Any Class Member whose filed claim has been approved or is approved in the future in 11 either or both of the 2.0-liter and 3.0-liter Volkswagen settlements will receive an automatic 12 payment via check by mail. (Id. ¶ 5.4.) In other words, those Class Members who made or make 13 an approved claim in the 2.0-liter or 3.0-liter settlements do not have to do anything to receive 14 their payments from Bosch.

15 B. Class Members Who Must Make a Claim

16 Two categories of Class Members are entitled to compensation but will not receive 17 automatic payments: (1) eligible Class Members who opted out of the 2.0-liter and 3.0-liter class 18 settlements, and (2) eligible sellers in the 2.0-liter settlement who did not identify themselves
19 during the relevant period for purposes of the 2.0 class settlement. (Id. ¶¶ 5.5.1, 5.5.2.)

20 Those Class Members who opted out of the Volkswagen settlements must file a claim no 21 later than August 15, 2017. (Id. ¶ 5.6.) Similarly, eligible sellers who did not timely identify 22 themselves in the 2.0-liter settlement and eligible former owners who do not identify themselves 23 by the deadline set forth in the 3.0-liter settlement and do not file a claim by the claim submission 24 deadline in the 3.0-liter settlement must file a claim no later than May 1, 2017. (Id. ¶ 5.7.) For 25 these categories of Class Members, claims eligibility will be decided by the Claims Administrator.
26 (Id. ¶ 5.6.) Class Members will be notified by email or letter within five business days of the 27 Claims Administrator's eligibility determination. (Id. ¶ 5.8.) The Claims Administrator will mail 28 a compensation check to each Class Member whose claim is approved no later than 10 business

1 days after the Claims Administrator's eligibility determination. (Id. ¶ 5.9).

2 IV. Distribution of Settlement Payments

3 The Bosch Settlement Fund will be distributed such that $163,267,450 will be shared 4 among 2.0-liter Class Members and $113,264,400 will be shared among 3.0-liter Class Members.
5 (Dkt. No. 2838 at 14.) The Bosch Settlement Fund will be distributed, based on the Federal Trade 6 Commission's ("FTC") allocation plan (see Dkt. No. 2918 ¶ 4.4), to Class Members as follows:

7 An eligible owner of an Eligible Vehicle in the 2.0-liter settlement will receive $350, 8 except that if an eligible seller or lessee has an approved claim for the same Eligible Vehicle, the 9 eligible owner will receive $175. (Dkt. No. 2838 at 15.) An eligible seller in the 2.0-liter 10 settlement with an approved claim will receive $175. (Id.) An eligible lessee in the 2.0-liter 11 settlement will receive $200. (Id.)

12 An eligible owner of an Eligible Vehicle in the 3.0-liter settlement will receive $1,500, 13 with three exceptions: (1) if an eligible former owner of the same Eligible Vehicle has an 14 approved claim in the 3.0-liter settlement, the $1,500 payment will be split equally ($750 each) 15 between the owner and the former owner; (2) an eligible owner will also receive $750 if an 16 eligible former lessee of the Eligible Vehicle has an approved claim; and (3) if two former eligible 17 owners of the Eligible Vehicle have approved claims, the $1,500 will be split such that the eligible 18 owner receives $750 and each of the two former owners receives $375. (Id.) An eligible lessee in 19 the 3.0-liter settlement will receive $1,200. (Id.)

20 At the conclusion of the Settlement Benefit Period, if any funds remain in the Bosch 21 Settlement Fund and it is not feasible or economically reasonable to distribute such funds to Class 22 Members, the funds will be distributed through cy pres payments according to a distribution plan 23 and schedule filed by Class Counsel and approved by the Court. (Dkt. No. 2918 ¶ 10.2.) Any 24 unused funds will only revert to Bosch if the Settlement is terminated or invalidated prior to the 25 conclusion of the Settlement Benefit Period. (Id. ¶ 10.3.)

26 V. Opt Out Procedure and Objections

27 Class Members may request exclusion from the Settlement by mailing a signed, written 28 request stating their desire in clear and unambiguous language, such as "I wish to exclude myself

1 from the Bosch Settlement Class in In re Volkswagen ‘Clean Diesel’ Marketing, Sales Practices
 2 and Products Liability Litigation, No. 15-md-2672,” to the Notice Administrator on or before the 3 opt-out deadline of April 14, 2017. (Dkt. No. 2918 ¶ 6.1.) The written request must also include 4 (1) the Class Member’s printed name, address, and telephone number; (2) a statement as to 5 whether the class member is an eligible owner, eligible lessee, or eligible seller in the 2.0-liter 6 settlement or an eligible owner, eligible former owner, eligible lessee, or eligible former lessee in 7 the 3.0-liter settlement; (3) the VIN of the Eligible Vehicle(s); and (4) the dates of the Class
 8 Member’s ownership or lease of the Eligible Vehicle(s). (Id.)

9 The Class Notice shall advise that Class Members may object to the Settlement by filing 10 with the Court a written objection that explains why he or she believes the Court should not 11 approve the Class Action Settlement as fair, reasonable, and adequate. (Id. ¶ 7.1.) The written 12 objection must include: (1) a detailed statement of and specific reasons for the objection; (2) the 13 Class Member’s name, address, and telephone number; (3) a statement as to whether the class 14 member is an eligible owner, eligible lessee, or eligible seller in the 2.0-liter settlement or an 15 eligible owner, eligible former owner, eligible lessee, or eligible former lessee in the 3.0-liter 16 settlement; (4) the VIN of the Eligible Vehicle(s); (5) a statement that the Class Member has 17 reviewed the Class definition and has not opted out of the Class; (6) the dates of the Class
 18 Member’s ownership or lease of the Eligible Vehicle(s); and (7) any other supporting documents 19 the Class Member wishes the Court to consider. (Id.) Class Members may object on their own 20 behalf or through counsel, at the Class Members’ own expense. (Id. ¶ 7.2.)

21 VI. Release of Claims

22 Class Members agree to release Released Claims against the Released Parties. The 23 Settlement defines Released Parties as:

24 (1) Robert Bosch GmbH, Robert Bosch LLC, and all current and 25 former parents (direct or indirect), shareholders (direct or indirect), 26 members (direct or indirect), subsidiaries, affiliates, joint venture 27 partners, insurers, contractors, consultants, and auditors, and the 28 predecessors, successors, and assigns of the foregoing (the “Bosch Released Entities”); and (2) all current and former officers, directors, members of the management or supervisory boards, employees, agents, advisors and attorneys of the Bosch Released Entities (the “Bosch Released Personnel”).

1 (Id. ¶ 9.2.)

2 The Released Claims are defined as:

3 any and all claims, demands, actions, or causes of action, whether 4 known or unknown, that they may have, purport to have, or may 5 have hereafter against any Released Party, as defined above, that: (i) 6 are related to any Eligible Vehicle; (ii) arise from or in any way 7 relate to the 2.0-liter TDI Matter or the 3.0 Liter TDI Matter; and 8 (iii) that arise from or are otherwise related to conduct by a Released 9 Party that (a) predates the date of this Class Action Settlement 10 Agreement and (b) formed the factual basis for a claim that was 11 made or could have been made in the Complaints. This Release 12 applies to any and all claims, demands, actions, or causes of action 13 of any kind or nature whatsoever, whether in law or in equity, 14 contractual, quasi-contractual, or statutory, known or unknown, 15 direct, indirect or consequential, liquidated or unliquidated, past, 16 present or future, foreseen or unforeseen, developed or undeveloped, 17 contingent or non-contingent, suspected or unsuspected, whether or 18 not concealed or hidden, related to any Eligible Vehicle and arising 19 from or otherwise related to conduct by a Released Party that 20 predates the date of this Class Action Settlement Agreement as set forth above, including without limitation (1) any claims that were or could have been asserted in the Action; (2) all marketing and advertising claims related to Eligible Vehicles; (3) all claims arising out of or in any way related to emissions, emissions control equipment, electronic control units, electronic transmission units, CAN-bus-related hardware, or software programs, programing, coding, or calibration in Eligible Vehicles; (4) all claims arising out of or in any way related to a 2.0-liter TDI Matter under the 2.0-liter Class Action Settlement and a 3.0-liter TDI Matter under the 3.0-liter Class Action Settlement; and (5) any claims for fines, penalties, criminal assessments, economic damages, punitive damages, exemplary damages, statutory damages or civil penalties, liens, rescission or equitable or injunctive relief, attorneys', expert, consultant, or other litigation fees, costs, or expenses, or any other liabilities, that were or could have been asserted in any civil, criminal, administrative, or other proceeding, including arbitration[.]

21 (Id. ¶ 9.3.) The Court is satisfied that the scope of the Released Claims is consistent with Ninth 22 Circuit law; that is, it covers only those claims that are based on the identical factual predicate as 23 that underlying the claims in the Complaints. See Hesse v. Sprint Corp., 598 F.3d 581, 590 (9th 24 Cir. 2010) (“A settlement agreement may preclude a party from bringing a related claim in the 25 future even though the claim was not presented and might not have been presentable in the class 26 action, but only where the released claim is based on the identical factual predicate as that 27 underlying the claims in the settled class action.”) (citation and internal quotations omitted).

28 Class Members expressly waive and relinquish any rights they may have under California

1 Civil Code § 1542 or other similar federal or state laws. (Id. ¶ 9.5; see Cal. Civ. Code § 1542 (“A 2 general release does not extend to claims which the creditor does not know or suspect to exist in 3 his or her favor at the time of executing the release, which if known by him or her must have 4 materially affected his or her settlement with the debtor.”).)

5 Class Members who receive payment from the Bosch Settlement Fund must execute an 6 individual release as a condition of obtaining such payment. (Dkt. No. 2918 ¶ 9.6.) The 7 individual release becomes effective and binding once the Class Member signs and deposits a 8 compensation check issued pursuant to the Settlement. (Id.)

9 VII. Attorneys’ Fees and Costs

10 Reasonable attorneys’ fees and costs for work performed by Class Counsel, as well as 11 other attorneys designated by Class Counsel to perform work in connection with this MDL, will 12 be paid from the Bosch Settlement Fund. (Id. ¶ 11.1.) Attorneys’ fees are subject to the Court’s 13 approval. (Id.) Bosch and Class Counsel did not discuss the amount of fees and expenses to be 14 paid prior to agreement on the terms of the Settlement (id.), though Class Counsel has indicated 15 that it will seek attorneys’ fees of no more than 16 percent of the Bosch Settlement Fund (Dkt. No.
16 2838 at 16). Bosch will not be required to pay any amounts for fees and expenses in addition to 17 the Bosch Settlement Fund. (Dkt. No. 2918 ¶ 11.1.)

18 LEGAL STANDARD

19 “[T]here is a strong judicial policy that favors settlements, particularly where complex 20 class action litigation is concerned.” Allen v. Bedolla, 787 F.3d 1218, 1223 (9th Cir. 2015) 21 (quoting In re Syncor ERISA Litig., 516 F.3d 1095, 1101 (9th Cir. 2008)). Nevertheless, Federal 22 Rule of Civil Procedure 23(e) requires courts to approve any class action settlement.

23 “[S]ettlement class actions present unique due process concerns for absent class members.”
24 Hanlon v. Chrysler Corp., 150 F.3d 1011, 1026 (9th Cir. 1998). As such, “the district court has a 25 fiduciary duty to look after the interests of those absent class members.” Allen, 787 F.3d at 1223 26 (collecting cases).

27 Preliminary approval of a class action settlement generally requires two inquiries. See 28 Cotter v. Lyft, Inc., 176 F. Supp. 3d 930, 935 (N.D. Cal. 2016). Courts first assess whether a class

1 exists. See Amchem Prods. Inc. v. Windsor, 521 U.S. 591, 620 (1997). This is “of vital 2 importance, for a court asked to certify a settlement class will lack the opportunity, present when a 3 case is litigated, to adjust the class, informed by the proceedings as they unfold.” Id. Second, 4 Rule 23(e) requires courts to determine “whether a proposed settlement is fundamentally fair, 5 adequate, and reasonable.” Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1026; see also Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(2).

6 DISCUSSION

7 I. Class Certification

8 Class certification is a two-step process. See Amchem, 521 U.S. at 613. The Settlement 9 Class Representatives must first satisfy Rule 23(a)’s four requirements: (1) numerosity, (2) 10 commonality, (3) typicality, and (4) adequacy of representation. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a).
 11 “[C]ertification is proper only if the trial court is satisfied, after a rigorous analysis, that the 12 prerequisites of Rule 23(a) have been satisfied[.]” Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. v. Dukes, 564 U.S. 338, 13 350-51 (2011) (internal quotations omitted).

14 The Settlement Class Representatives must then establish that a class action may be 15 maintained under any of Rule 23(b)(1), (2), or (3). See Amchem, 521 U.S. at 613. The Settlement 16 Class Representatives seek certification under Rule 23(b)(3), which is appropriate when questions 17 of law or fact common to Class Members predominate and a class action is the superior means to 18 other available methods to resolve the controversy. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(3).

19 A. Rule 23(a)

20 As discussed below, the Settlement Class Representatives meet all four Rule 23(a) 21 requirements for purposes of preliminary approval.

22 1. Numerosity

23 Rule 23(a)(1) requires the class to be “so numerous that joinder of all parties is 24 impracticable.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(1). “A specific minimum number is not necessary, and [a] 25 plaintiff need not state the exact number of potential class members.” Richie v. Blue Shield of 26 California, No. C-13-2693 EMC, 2014 WL 6982943, at *15 (N.D. Cal. Dec. 9, 2014) (citations 27 omitted). The numerosity requirement is easily satisfied here. There were over 500,000 Eligible 28 Vehicles sold or leased to consumers in the United States, and thus hundreds of thousands of 1 potential Class Members. Rule 23(a)(1) is met because joinder is impossible. See Palmer v.

2 Stassinis, 233 F.R.D. 546, 549 (N.D. Cal. 2006) (“Joinder of 1,000 or more co-plaintiffs is clearly 3 impractical.”).

4 2. Commonality

5 Rule 23(a)(2) mandates the existence of “questions of law or fact common to the class.”
6 Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(2). “The existence of shared legal issues with divergent factual predicates is 7 sufficient, as is a common core of salient facts coupled with disparate legal remedies within the 8 class.” Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1019. Assessing commonality requires courts to have “a precise 9 understanding of the nature of the underlying claims.” Parsons v. Ryan, 754 F.3d 657, 676 (9th 10 Cir. 2014) (citations omitted). This allows courts to determine if the class’ “claims . . . depend 11 upon a common contention” that is “of such a nature that it is capable of classwide resolution—12 which means that determination of its truth or falsity will resolve an issue that is central to the 13 validity of each one of the claims in one stroke.” Dukes, 564 U.S. at 350. The commonality 14 “analysis does not turn on the number of common questions, but on their relevance to the factual 15 and legal issues at the core of the purported class’ claims.” Jimenez v. Allstate Ins. Co., 765 F.3d 16 1161, 1165 (9th Cir. 2014), cert. denied, 135 S. Ct. 2835 (2015). Rather, a single common 17 question of law or fact satisfies the Rule. See Dukes, 564 U.S. at 369.

18 The Settlement Class Representatives satisfy the commonality requirement, as their claims 19 arise from Volkswagen’s and Bosch’s common course of conduct. Specifically, the common 20 questions of fact relate to Bosch’s involvement in Volkswagen’s fraudulent scheme to deceive 21 state and federal regulatory authorities by installing in 2.0- and 3.0-liter diesel engine vehicles the 22 designed defeat device. (See Dkt. No. 2838 at 25.) Without class certification, individual Class 23 Members would be forced to separately litigate the same issues of law and fact which arise from 24 Bosch’s involvement in Volkswagen’s use of the defeat device and from Volkswagen’s and 25 Bosch’s alleged common course of conduct. See In re Celera Corp. Sec. Litig., No. 5:10-CV-26 02604-EJD, 2014 WL 722408, at *3 (N.D. Cal. Feb. 25, 2014) (finding commonality requirement 27 met where plaintiffs raised questions of law or fact that would be addressed by other putative class 28 members pursuing similar claims). Accordingly, Rule 23(a)(2) is satisfied.

3. Typicality

2 Rule 23(a)(3) requires that the representative parties' claims be "typical of the claims or 3 defenses of the class." Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(3). Typicality "assure[s] that the interest of the 4 named representative aligns with the interests of the class." Wolin v. Jaguar Land Rover N. Am., 5 LLC, 617 F.3d 1168, 1175 (9th Cir. 2010) (citation and quotations omitted). Under this 6 "permissive" rule, "representative claims are 'typical' if they are reasonably coextensive with 7 those of absent class members; they need not be substantially identical." Parsons, 754 F.3d at 685 8 (citation and quotations omitted). "The test of typicality 'is whether other members have the same 9 or similar injury, whether the action is based on conduct which is not unique to the named 10 plaintiffs, and whether other class members have been injured by the same course of conduct.'" Hanon v. Dataproducts Corp., 976 F.2d 497, 508 (9th Cir. 1992) (citation omitted).

12 Here, the typicality requirement is met. The Settlement Class Representatives' claims are 13 based on the same pattern of Volkswagen's and Bosch's wrongdoing as those brought on behalf of 14 Class Members. The Settlement Class Representatives, as well as Class Members, purchased or 15 leased an Eligible Vehicle equipped with a defeat device. Their claims are typical because they 16 were subject to the same conduct as other Class Members, and as a result of that conduct, the 17 Settlement Class Representatives and Class Members suffered the same injury.

4. Adequacy of Representation

19 Rule 23(a)(4) requires that the representative party be able to "fairly and adequately protect 20 the interests of the class." Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(4). "This requirement is rooted in due-process 21 concerns—'absent class members must be afforded adequate representation before entry of a 22 judgment which binds them.'" Radcliffe v. Experian Info. Sols. Inc., 715 F.3d 1157, 1165 (9th 23 Cir. 2013) (citation omitted). Courts engage in a dual inquiry to determine adequate 24 representation and ask: "(1) do the named plaintiffs and their counsel have any conflicts of interest 25 with other class members and (2) will the named plaintiffs and their counsel prosecute the action 26 vigorously on behalf of the class?" Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1020 (citation omitted).

27 First, nothing in the record suggests the Settlement Class Representatives or Class Counsel 28 have any conflicts of interests with other potential Class Members. The Court is satisfied that the

1 Settlement Class Representatives have adequately represented Class Members’ interests 2 throughout this litigation, including with regards to the related 2.0-liter diesel engine settlement
 3 with Volkswagen, which has been finally approved, as well as the 3.0-liter diesel engine 4 settlement. As the Court previously noted, “[t]he Settlement Class Representatives affirm they 5 ‘and Class Members are entirely aligned in their interest in proving that Volkswagen misled them 6 and share the common goal of obtaining redress for their injuries.’ The Court finds no reason to 7 believe otherwise.” (Dkt. No. 1698 at 18) (internal citation omitted.)

8 Second, the Court is satisfied that the Settlement Class Representatives and Class Counsel 9 have and will continue to vigorously prosecute this action on behalf of the class. The Settlement 10 Class Representatives have actively participated in this litigation by providing Class Counsel with 11 factual information concerning the purchase or lease of their Eligible Vehicle, which assisted in 12 the drafting of the complaint. (See Dkt. No. 2838 at 28.) The Settlement Class Representatives 13 also submitted detailed verified Plaintiff Fact Sheets during discovery, provided relevant 14 documents and information, assisted in the preparation of discovery responses, and communicated 15 regularly with Class Counsel. (Id.)

16 Finally, there are no doubts regarding Class Counsel’s adequacy. As the Court previously 17 stated with regards to the 2.0-liter engine settlement:

18 The Court appointed Lead Plaintiffs’ Counsel and the 21 PSC 19 members after a competitive application process, during which the 20 Court received approximately 150 applications. They are qualified 21 attorneys with extensive experience in consumer class action 22 litigation and other complex cases. The extensive efforts undertaken 23 thus far in this matter are indicative of Lead Plaintiffs’ Counsel’s 24 and the PSC’s ability to prosecute this action vigorously. The Court 25 therefore finds the Settlement Class Representatives and Class 26 Counsel are adequate representatives.

27 (Dkt. No. 1698 at 18.)

28 B. Rule 23(b)(3)

A class action may be maintained under Rule 23(b)(3) when “the court finds [1] that the questions of law or fact common to class members predominate over any questions affecting only individual members, and [2] that a class action is superior to other available methods for fairly and efficiently adjudicating the controversy[.]” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(3). “Rule 23(b)(3)’s

1 predominance criterion is even more demanding than Rule 23(a).” Comcast Corp. v. Behrend, 2 133 S. Ct. 1426, 1432 (2013). The Rule 23(b)(3) “analysis presumes that the existence of 3 common issues of fact or law have been established pursuant to Rule 23(a)(2); thus, the presence 4 of commonality alone is not sufficient to fulfill Rule 23(b)(3).” Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1022.
5 Instead, “[t]he ‘predominance inquiry tests whether proposed classes are sufficiently cohesive to 6 warrant adjudication by representation’” and requires “courts to give careful scrutiny to the 7 relation between common and individual questions in a case.” Tyson Foods, Inc. v. Bouaphakeo, 8 136 S. Ct. 1036, 1045 (2016) (citation omitted). Predominance is found “[w]hen common 9 questions present a significant aspect of the case and they can be resolved for all members of the 10 class in a single adjudication[.]” Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1022 (internal quotations omitted).

11 This case meets Rule 23(b)(3)’s predominance requirement. Plaintiffs allege that Bosch 12 and Volkswagen perpetrated the same fraud in the same manner against all Class Members. If the 13 Court were to find that Bosch and Volkswagen have indeed engaged in a deceptive and fraudulent 14 scheme, such a finding would apply to all of the Class Members’ claims. Plaintiffs also allege a 15 common and unifying injury, as their and other Class Members’ injuries arise solely from Bosch’s 16 and Volkswagen’s use of the defeat device. As such, the Court finds predominance is met.

17 The superiority test is also satisfied. This inquiry “requires the court to determine whether 18 maintenance of this litigation as a class action is efficient and whether it is fair.” Wolin, 617 F.3d 19 at 1175-76. If Class Members were to bring individual lawsuits against Bosch, each Member 20 would be required to prove the same wrongful conduct to establish liability and thus would offer 21 the same evidence. Given that Class Members number in the hundreds of thousands, there is the 22 potential for just as many lawsuits with the possibility of inconsistent rulings and results. Thus, 23 classwide resolution of their claims is clearly favored over other means of adjudication, and the 24 proposed Settlement resolves Class Members’ claims at once. As such, class action treatment is 25 superior to other methods and will efficiently and fairly resolve the controversy.

26 * * *

27 In sum, Plaintiffs satisfy the Rule 23(a) and (b)(3) requirements. The Court therefore 28 certifies the proposed Settlement Class for settlement purposes.

1 II. Preliminary Fairness Determination

2 The Ninth Circuit has identified eight factors courts should consider to determine whether 3 a settlement agreement is fair, adequate, and reasonable:

4 (1) the strength of the plaintiff’s case; (2) the risk, expense, 5 complexity, and likely duration of further litigation; (3) the risk of 6 maintaining class action status throughout the trial; (4) the amount 7 offered in settlement; (5) the extent of discovery completed and the 8 stage of the proceedings; (6) the experience and views of counsel; 9 (7) the presence of a governmental participant; and (8) the reaction 10 of the class members of the proposed settlement.

11 In re Bluetooth Headset Prods. Liab. Litig., 654 F.3d 935, 946 (9th Cir. 2011) (citation omitted).

12 Courts must examine “the settlement taken as a whole, rather than the individual component parts” 13 for fairness. Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1026. Courts cannot “delete, modify or substitute certain 14 provisions” of the settlement. Id. (internal quotations omitted).

15 But where, as here, the parties negotiate a settlement before a class has been certified, 16 “courts must peruse the proposed compromise to ratify both the propriety of the certification and 17 the fairness of the settlement.” Staton v. Boeing Co., 327 F.3d 938, 952 (9th Cir. 2003). Pre-class 18 certification settlements “must withstand an even higher level of scrutiny for evidence of collusion 19 or other conflicts of interest than is ordinarily required under Rule 23(e) before securing the 20 court’s approval as fair.” Bluetooth, 654 F.3d at 946 (citation omitted). This heightened scrutiny 21 “ensure[s] that class representatives and their counsel do not secure a disproportionate benefit ‘at 22 the expense of the unnamed plaintiffs who class counsel had a duty to represent.’” Lane v.
23 Facebook, Inc., 696 F.3d 811, 819 (9th Cir. 2012) (citation omitted). Thus, courts must evaluate 24 the settlement for evidence of collusion. Id.

25 Because “[c]ollusion may not always be evident on the face of a settlement, . . . courts 26 therefore must be particularly vigilant not only for explicit collusion, but also for more subtle 27 signs that class counsel have allowed pursuit of their own self-interests and that of certain class 28 members to infect the negotiations.” Bluetooth, 654 F.3d at 947. In Bluetooth, the Ninth Circuit identified signs of subtle collusion including, but not limited to:

(1) when counsel receive a disproportionate distribution of the settlement, or when the class receives no monetary distribution but class counsel are amply rewarded, (2) when the parties negotiate a

1 “clear sailing” arrangement providing for the payment of attorneys’ 2 fees separate and apart from class funds, which carries “the potential 3 of enabling a defendant to pay class counsel excessive fees and costs in exchange for counsel accepting an unfair settlement on behalf of the class”; and (3) when the parties arrange for fees not awarded to revert to defendants rather than be added to the class fund[.]

4 Id. (internal quotations and citations omitted).

5 Courts need not assess all of these fairness factors at the preliminary approval stage. See 6 Alberto v. GMRI, Inc., 252 F.R.D. 652, 665 (E.D. Cal. 2008). Rather, “the preliminary approval 7 stage [is] an ‘initial evaluation’ of the fairness of the proposed settlement made by the court on the 8 basis of written submissions and informal presentation from the settling parties.” In re High-Tech 9 Employee Antitrust Litig., No. 11-CV-2509-LHK, 2013 WL 6328811, at *1 (N.D. Cal. Oct. 30, 10 2013) (citation omitted). At this stage, “[p]reliminary approval of a settlement is appropriate if 11 ‘the proposed settlement appears to be the product of serious, informed, non-collusive 12 negotiations, has no obvious deficiencies, does not improperly grant preferential treatment to class 13 representatives or segments of the class, and falls within the range of possible approval.’” Ruch v.
 14 AM Retail Grp., Inc., No. 14-CV-05352-MEJ, 2016 WL 1161453, at *7 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 24, 2016) 15 (citation omitted). Ultimately, “[t]he initial decision to approve or reject a settlement proposal is 16 committed to the sound discretion of the trial judge.” Officers for Justice v. Civil Serv. Comm’n of 17 City & Cty. of San Francisco, 688 F.2d 615, 625 (9th Cir. 1982).

18 A. Settlement Process

19 “The first factor the Court examines is the means by which the parties arrived at 20 settlement.” Sciortino v. PepsiCo, Inc., No. 14-CV-00478-EMC, 2016 WL 3519179, at *4 (N.D.
 21 Cal. June 28, 2016). Preliminary approval is appropriate if the proposed settlement is the product 22 of serious, informed, non-collusive negotiations. The Settlement is the end result of such 23 negotiations. Class Counsel received and analyzed “voluminous discovery material” (Dkt. No.
 24 2838 at 21), which allowed them to make a well-informed assessment of the merits of the Class’ 25 claims and to determine whether Volkswagen’s offers adequately compensates Class Members for 26 their injuries. The Settlement is also the result of arm’s-length negotiations by experienced Class 27 Counsel and thus is “entitled to ‘an initial presumption of fairness.’” In re High-Tech Empl., 2013
 28 WL 6328811, at *1 (citation omitted). Moreover, Class Counsel negotiated the Settlement

1 alongside government entities, including the EPA and the FTC. (See Dkt. No. 2838 at 21.) While 2 those entities are not technically parties to the Settlement, their coordination with Class Counsel 3 and support of the Settlement weigh in favor of granting preliminary approval.

4 Further, the parties negotiated the Settlement under the supervision of the court-appointed 5 Settlement Master. While “the mere presence of a neutral mediator, though a factor weighing in 6 favor of a finding of non-collusiveness, is not on its own dispositive of whether the end product is 7 a fair, adequate, and reasonable settlement agreement[,]” Bluetooth, 654 F.3d at 948, on balance, 8 the Settlement Master’s guidance coupled with informed dialogues and the intensive involvement 9 of government entities suggests the parties reached the Settlement after serious, informed, non-10 collusive negotiations. This factor weighs strongly in favor of preliminary approval.

11 B. The Presence of Obvious Deficiencies

12 The second consideration is whether the Settlement contains any obvious deficiencies. The 13 Court finds no glaring concerns at this time, particularly in light of the Bluetooth factors.

14 The first Bluetooth factor asks (1) whether class counsel receive a disproportionate 15 distribution of the settlement or (2) whether counsel are amply rewarded while the class receives 16 no monetary distribution. Id. at 947. At this point, this factor is not problematic. As the parties 17 have not yet negotiated attorneys’ fees, the Court cannot presently determine if the first situation 18 exists, that is, whether the Settlement awards Class Counsel a disproportionate distribution of the 19 settlement funds. Further, the Court will make the final decision as to the amount of Class 20 Counsel’s compensation. The second situation is also not present, as the Settlement provides for 21 monetary compensation from the Bosch Settlement Fund to all Class Members. (See Dkt. No.
 22 2838 at 14-15.) As such, there is no evidence of collusion under the first Bluetooth factor.

23 As for the second Bluetooth factor relating to the existence of any “clear sailing” 24 arrangement, the parties have agreed that any fees that Bosch owes will be paid from the Bosch 25 Settlement Fund. (Dkt. No. 2918 ¶ 11.1.) As noted earlier, however, the parties have not agreed 26 on an amount of attorneys’ fees and costs. (Id.) Thus, as of now, there is no “clear sailing” 27 agreement and this factor does not weigh against preliminary approval.

28 The Long Form Notice informs Class Members that Bosch will pay court-approved

1 attorneys' fees and costs and that their compensation will not be reduced by those expenses. (Dkt.
2 No. 2918-1 at 10.) It further advises Class Members that they will have opportunity to comment 3 on and/or object to the PSC's request for fees and costs. (Id. at 15.) The Settlement provides that 4 Class Counsel will submit their application for attorneys' fees and costs at the same time that they 5 move for final approval of the Settlement.¹ (Dkt. No. 2918 ¶ 11.1.) Class Members therefore will 6 have this information available when deciding whether to object to or opt out of the Settlement, a 7 decision that must be made by April 14, 2017. Such additional information shall be made 8 available to interested Class Members on the Court's website as well as the Settlement Website.²

9 The third Bluetooth factor considers whether the settlement provides for funds not awarded 10 to revert to defendants. See Bluetooth, 654 F.3d at 947. There is no concern under this factor, as 11 any unpaid funds at the end of the Settlement Benefit Period will not revert to Bosch; rather, to the 12 extent it is not feasible or economically reasonable to distribute the remaining funds to Class 13 Members, such funds will be distributed through cy pres payments according to a distribution plan
14 and schedule submitted by Class Counsel and approved by the Court. (See Dkt. No. 2918 ¶ 10.2.)

15 At this time, none of the Bluetooth factors are present, nor does the Court note any other 16 apparent problems with the Settlement. The lack of any obvious deficiencies weighs in favor of 17 preliminary approval.

18 C. Preferential Treatment

19 The third factor asks whether the Settlement provides preferential treatment to any Class 20 Member. It does not. Payments to Class Members are to be made in accordance with the 21

22 ¹ That the amount of attorneys' fees and costs is still to be determined is not fatal to preliminary 23 approval. Rule 23(h), which governs attorneys' fees in class actions, does not require Class 24 Counsel to move for its fee award at the preliminary approval juncture, or even upon seeking final 25 approval. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(h); In re Nat'l Football League Players Concussion Injury Litig., 26 821 F.3d 410, 445 (3d Cir. 2016) (“[T]he separation of a fee award from final approval of the 27 settlement does not violate Rule 23(h)[.]”); In re Oil Spill by Oil Rig Deepwater Horizon in Gulf
28 of Mexico, on Apr. 20, 2010, 910 F. Supp. 2d 891, 918 n.16 (E.D. La. 2012), aff'd sub nom. In re Deepwater Horizon, 739 F.3d 790 (5th Cir. 2014) (granting final approval where “parties had no discussions regarding fees other than the PSC's making clear that it would eventually file a request for attorneys' fees”). While Class Members must be given an opportunity to object to a request for fees, see In re Mercury Interactive Corp. Secs. Litig., 618 F.3d 988, 994-95 (9th Cir. 2010), they can be given that opportunity during or even after final approval.

² The Court's website concerning this MDL may be found at <http://cand.uscourts.gov/crb/vwmdl>.
The Settlement Website may be found at www.BoschVWSettlement.com.

1 distribution plan developed by the FTC, which is an independent government agency acting as an 2 independent third party to the litigation between Plaintiffs and Bosch. (See Dkt. No. 2918 ¶ 4.4; 3 Dkt. No. 2838 at 14-16.) Under the FTC’s distribution plan, eligible Class Members receive 4 payments based on various objective criteria (e.g., 2.0-liter or 3.0-liter engines, owners or lessees, 5 etc.) that do not improperly favor one or more Class Members over others. Further, the Settlement 6 does not provide an incentive award for the Settlement Class Representatives. The Court is 7 satisfied the Settlement does not afford any Class Member preferential treatment and finds this 8 factor weighs in favor of preliminary approval.

9 D. Range of Possible Approval

10 Under the fourth factor, courts determine whether a settlement falls within the range of 11 possible approval. This requires courts to focus on “substantive fairness and adequacy” and 12 “consider plaintiffs’ expected recovery balanced against the value of the settlement offer.” 13 Tableware, 484 F. Supp. 2d at 1080. As part of this assessment, courts must “estimate the 14 maximum amount of damages recoverable in a successful litigation and compare that with the 15 settlement amount.” Harris, 2011 WL 1627973, at *11 (internal quotations omitted). In light of 16 the serious litigation risks identified by the PSC, coupled with the PSC’s support for the 17 Settlement, the Court concludes that the calculated settlement payments to Class Members strike 18 an adequate balance between the litigation risks and Class Members’ expected recovery. (See Dkt.
 19 No. 2838 at 19.) This factor favors preliminary approval.

20 * * *

21 For the reasons above, the proposed Settlement is fair, adequate, and reasonable.

22 III. Class Notice

23 A. Method of Providing Notice

24 For any class certified under Rule 23(b)(3), “the court must direct to class members the 25 best notice that is practicable under the circumstances, including individual notice to all members 26 who can be identified through reasonable effort.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(c)(2)(B). “[T]he express 27 language and intent of Rule 23(c)(2) leave no doubt that individual notice must be provided to 28 those class members who are identifiable through reasonable effort.” Eisen v. Carlisle &

1 Jacquelin, 417 U.S. 156, 175 (1974).

2 The Class Notice Program will begin February 15, 2017. (Dkt. No. 2838 at 37.) The 3 parties have selected, subject to the Court's approval, Epiq Systems, Inc. as the Notice
4 Administrator. (Dkt. No. 2918 ¶ 2.42.) The Notice Administrator will send the Short Form 5 Notice (see Dkt. No. 2918-2) in the form of postcards to all Class Members using the Class
6 Member contact information that was gathered during the 2.0- and 3.0-liter Volkswagen 7 settlements. (Dkt. No. 2838-2 ¶¶ 13-16.) The Long Form Notice will be mailed to all Class 8 Members that request a copy; the Notice will also be made available for download or printing on 9 the Settlement Website. (Id. ¶ 17.) Further, the Notice Administrator will email Class Members 10 for whom a valid email address is available with a slightly modified version of the Long Form 11 Notice. (Id. ¶ 18.)

12 In light of the direct-mail and email notice efforts described above, along with the media 13 notice previously done in 2016 for the 2.0-liter engine settlement and the concurrent media plan 14 for the proposed 3.0-liter engine settlement, there will only be moderate supplemental paid media 15 for the Bosch Settlement. (Id. ¶ 20.) Such paid media includes: (1) digital banner advertisements 16 targeted specifically to Bosch Class Members; (2) sponsored search listings on the three most 17 highly-visited Internet search engines, Google, Yahoo! and Bing; and (3) a party-neutral 18 informational release issued to approximately 4,200 print and broadcast and 5,500 online press 19 outlets throughout the United States. (Id. ¶¶ 21-26.) Class Members will also be able to visit the 20 Settlement Website (www.BoschVWSettlement.com) and call a toll-free telephone number to 21 obtain information about and access the Settlement, the Long Form Notice, the complaint, and 22 answers to frequently asked questions. (Id. ¶¶ 27-29.) The Notice Administrator will also 23 establish a post office box to allow Class Members to contact the Claims Administrator by mail.
24 (Id. ¶ 30.)

25 The Court is satisfied that the Notice Program is adequate. Direct mail provides individual 26 notice to identifiable Class Members, as required by Rule 23(c)(2). Class Members' names and 27 addresses are readily identifiable, and there is nothing to suggest Class Members cannot be located 28 through reasonable efforts. Direct mail therefore serves as the best practicable method to notify

1 Class Members of this Settlement. See Hunt v. Check Recovery Sys., Inc., No. C05 04993 MJJ, 2 2007 WL 2220972, at *3 (N.D. Cal. Aug. 1, 2007) (“Delivery by first-class mail can satisfy the 3 best notice practicable when there is no indication that any of the class members cannot be 4 identified through reasonable efforts.”), aff’d sub nom. Hunt v. Imperial Merch. Servs., Inc., 560
 5 F.3d 1137 (9th Cir. 2009). The paid media campaign, Settlement Website, and toll-free telephone 6 number further ensure notice will reach Class Members. The Court thus approves Plaintiffs’ 7 proposed method of notice as it provides the best practicable notice that is reasonably calculated to 8 inform Class Members of this Settlement.

9 B. Contents of the Notice

10 Rule 23(c)(2)(B) also requires the notice clearly and concisely state:

11 (i) the nature of the action; (ii) the definition of the class certified; 12 (iii) the class claims, issues, or defenses; (iv) that a class member 13 may enter an appearance through an attorney if the member so 14 desires; (v) that the court will exclude from the class any member 15 who requests exclusion; (vi) the time and manner for requesting 16 exclusion; and (vii) the binding effect of a class judgment on 17 members under Rule 23(c)(3).

18 Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(c)(2)(B).

19 The Long Form Notice and the Short Form Notice satisfy the elements of Rule 20 23(c)(2)(B). (See Dkt. Nos. 2918-1, 2918-2.) They provide a summary of the Settlement and 21 clearly explain how Class Members may object to or opt out of the Settlement, as well as how 22 Class Members may address the Court at the final approval hearing. See Churchill Vill., L.L.C. v.
 23 Gen. Elec., 361 F.3d 566, 575 (9th Cir. 2004) (“Notice is satisfactory if it generally describes the 24 terms of the settlement in sufficient detail to alert those with adverse viewpoints to investigate and 25 to come forward and be heard.”). The Long Form Notice further explains in question-and-answer 26 format the benefits provided under the Settlement, how Class Members receive benefits, and who 27 is a Class Member. Furthermore, the Long Form Notice provides the names and contact addresses 28 of Lead Plaintiffs’ Counsel and PSC members, and both Notices indicate additional information about the Settlement can be found on the Settlement Website or by calling 1 (844) 305-1928.

29 C. Costs of Class Notice Program

Bosch will bear all reasonable and necessary fees and costs of the Class Notice Program.

1 (Dkt. No. 2918 ¶ 8.2.) Within five days of this Order, Bosch shall transfer or pay to the Notice 2 Administrator and the Claims Administrator an amount sufficient to cover the initial costs of the 3 Program. (Id. ¶ 8.3.)

4 CONCLUSION

5 The Court finds that the proposed Settlement is the result of intensive, non-collusive 6 negotiations and is reasonable, fair, and adequate. The Court therefore GRANTS Plaintiffs’ 7 motion for preliminary approval as follows:

8 1. The proposed Settlement Class is conditionally certified pursuant to Federal Rules 9 of Civil Procedure 23(a) and (b)(3) for settlement purposes. The Settlement Class 10 is defined as set forth in the Settlement (see Dkt. No. 2918 ¶ 2.17):

11 all persons and entities who were eligible for membership in 12 the combination of the classes as defined in the 2.0-liter
13 Class Action Settlement Agreement and the 3.0-liter Class 14 Action Settlement Agreement, including Volkswagen 15 Settlement Opt Outs. The Class thus consists of:

16 2.17.1. Eligible Owners, Eligible Sellers, and Eligible 17 Lessees in the 2.0-liter Class Action Settlement Agreement, 18 and

19 2.17.2. Eligible Owners, Eligible Former Owners, Eligible 20 Lessees and Eligible Former Lessees in the 3.0-liter Class 21 Action Settlement Agreement.

22 2.17.3. The following entities and individuals are excluded 23 from the Class:

24 (a) Bosch’s officers, directors, and employees; and Bosch’s 25 affiliates and affiliates’ officers, directors, and employees;

26 (b) Volkswagen; Volkswagen’s officers, directors, and 27 employees; and Volkswagen’s affiliates and affiliates’ 28 officers, directors, and employees;

(c) any Volkswagen Franchise Dealer;

(d) Judicial officers and their immediate family members and associated court staff assigned to this case; and

(e) All those otherwise in the Class who or which timely and properly exclude themselves from the Class as provided in this Class Action Settlement Agreement.

2. The Settlement is preliminarily approved as fair, adequate, and reasonable pursuant

3. The Court appoints Elizabeth J. Cabraser and the 21 members of the PSC listed in Pretrial Order No. 7 as Settlement Class Counsel. (See Dkt. No. 1084.)

4. The Court appoints and designates the individuals listed in Exhibit 1 to the motion as Class Representatives for settlement purposes only. (See Dkt. No. 2838-1.)

5. The Court appoints Epiq Systems, Inc. as both the Claims Administrator and the Notice Administrator to perform the duties set forth in the Settlement.

6. Notice shall be provided in accordance with the Notice Program and this Order—that is, beginning February 15, 2017.

7. Class Members shall submit their objections or requests for exclusion by April 14, 2017 in the manner set forth in the Settlement.

8. Class Counsel shall file a motion for final approval and attorneys' fees by March 24, 2017, and any reply shall be filed by April 28, 2017.

The Court will hold a final fairness hearing to determine whether the settlement is fair, reasonable, and adequate on May 11, 2017 at 8:00 a.m. in Courtroom 6, 450 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, California. The deadline for Class Members to file a Notice of Intent to Appear at final fairness hearing is April 14, 2017.
